

PlantMate

Thank you for downloading PlantMate !!

Here are some basic instructions to get you started :

PlantMate was designed for the express purpose of providing people with an alternative to the standard "plant book". This first version contains eighteen different plants. To run the program, create a directory for the program (ie: \plant) then copy the files into that directory. (You must also make sure that VBRUN200.DLL is in your Windows directory.) Then double click on Plant.exe, or install the program to run from program manager (there is an icon included in the .exe file to use). The program is designed to be very easy to use - even by unexperienced window users. If, however, you happen to have any problems, please write to me in America Online @ IRISHSTAR, or in Prodigy @ FVDD14A and I will be glad to help in any way I can.

Registration information :

This version of PlantMate is just the first of several I plan to make. With the registration of this program, you are automatically eligible to receive FREE OF CHARGE all future versions. I will be making a new upgrade available within the next few months that will include at least twenty new plants added to the ones you already have. This way, as the database grows, your program will grow along with it. I will send these upgrades to registered users by mail just as soon as they are completed. To register your version of PlantMate and get your name on my mailing list for future versions :

Send $26.95 plus $3.00 shipping to :
