Good! You entered enough information for me to process your order. Before I can dial your modem, though, I need to know about your telephone service. If you don't have any special configuration isues (such as disabling call waiting), just ignore it and hit the Done button.