AllDay v4.3
by Ulrich Hilger
Keep track of important events and holidays with this year-at-a-glance calendar. Highlight holidays, weekends and special events. Add your own special events, like birthdays and anniversaries. Print your personalized calendars!

AutoCat v1.7.2
by Olivier Lebra
Catalog disks quickly with this Control Panel. Whenever you eject a disk, this program creates a folder with aliases of all the files on the disk. Search these aliases with the standard Apple file search. Choose to catalog automatically or catalog all your disks at once with its Archiving Mode.

LetterHeader v1.5.4
by Two Bits Worth
Print personalized letterheads at the top of your documents with this easy-to-use utility. This Control Panel adds an option to your print dialog box. Select one letterhead for the first page of a document and a different letterhead for the subsequent pages. This feature is a more efficient use of memory and disk space than just pasting the letterhead on every document you print.

MyCalendar v4.0
by Dabs Software
Create and print your own calendars. Assign notes to specific days, generate banners (events that last through multiple days) and add repeating events. Customize your calendar by choosing your own fonts and printing size. Search through your calendar for specific dates or events.

My Lists & Labels v2.4
by Dabs Software
Create mailing lists and labels. Categorize your records so you can print all records or just records from a specific category. Sort by any field and choose which fields appear on your labels. The program is set up to print on any size labels, including 10 predefined labels.

My Schedule's Keeper v1.0.1
by Danny Stoll
Track daily events, notes and things to do with this personal planner. View one day, several days or an entire month. Assign daily events or create to-do lists for events that aren't assigned to any specific days. Set alarms to remind you of important events or projects. Complete with print and search features.

Symbionts v2.6.2
by B. Kevin Hardman
Keep track of your extensions with this handy program. Discover how much memory each extension occupies. As each extension loads at startup, this program displays the extension icon, the name of the extension and how much memory it's using. It even displays extensions that don't normally show an icon.

TitlePop 2.4.1
by Jouko Pakkanen
Switch between open files easily with this Control Panel. Great if you are working simultaneously with several programs or files. This makes it easier to change applications or to shift between open files without having to close them or move them around. It's easy to access through your Title Bar.

XTimer v1.7
by Eric Long
Keep track of time-based charges with this handy program. Use it as a time clock — starting and stopping as you work on specific projects. Set your own billing rates. Change those rates while the timer is running — useful if you change from a charged to free service. Also record your spending, long distance phone calls, client billing and more.
