Avara 1.0

Fight to survive

Play this space-age battle game across a network. Avara's real-time graphic action will get your heart pounding as you see your opponent bound across the terrain and quickly swoop in to attack. Use the mouse and keyboard to move in this 360-degree arena as you counter-maneuver and engage the enemy. Avara's maneuverability is unique, allowing your warrior to freely climb, jump and run on any structure in the battlefield. Add to this the game's networking capabilities, and it gets even more challenging. Meet and play against people from all around the world - right over the Internet. Develop your skills and strategy in the many solo levels. When you're ready, access the Avara Internet Tracker to locate worthy opponents. The Tracker offers a continually updated list of Avara games in progress over the net. Avara can also be played across Local Area Network (LAN) connections.
