

Sports

Dirt Bike 3.1

Go off-roading on your dirt bike in this exciting game. Customize your bike, including weight, power, wheel radius and more. You're competing against the top four racers, so you'll need to go fast. You can even race against your last time - you'll actually see the bike from your last game racing along beside you!

Games-> Volume 222/February '96

Latest & Greatest-> Volume 222/February '96

GolfMeister 1.3

Keep track of your golf scores with this golf database. Enter information for courses, such as par and yardage for each hole. After a game with your colleagues, enter your scores. The program analyzes your handicap, your average number of strokes, putts and more. This information makes it much easier for you to intentionally lose to your boss!

Business-> Volume 223/March '96

MacBaseball 1.1

Play ball! Keep track of baseball scores and statistics using this omprehensive program. Pick the teams from the team data screen and record the line-up. The data entry screen is arranged by inning and records information, including hits, errors and runs. Other features include complete batting statistics for each player and inning. Includes tutorial files to get you started.

Latest & Greatest-> Volume 224/April '96

MacSaber 1.3.3

Touché! Have fun and learn how to fence with this HyperCard stack. Contains information about the history of fencing and related sports, including Kendo and Scharffechten. It also includes the complete rules of saber fencing and descriptions of all equipment involved - both classic and electronic. You can even fence against the computer. Select from three difficulty levels.

Education-> Volume 223/March '96

Games-> Volume 223/March '96

Richard's Curling Game 1.1

Chill out with this ancient Scottish game of Curling. Slide stones across an ice rink into a target on the other side. You can even knock your opponent's stone out of the way. It's not as easy as it seems. The stones turn - or curl - as they slide. Challenge a friend or compete against the computer.

Games-> Volume 227/July '96