Solid winger or defender who was voted best on the ground in the Commonwealth Cup Under 17s final.

Wingman or backman. Adelaide coach Robert Shaw describes the Crows' pick as a "talented kid".

Originally from Tumby Bay (SA) and played with Port Adelaide's Under 17's in 1994. Left-footed ruck-rover with exceptional skills.

Left-footed ruck-rover who played well for SA in Commonwealth Bank Cup matches in 1994.

Exciting utility with excellent skills and good pace.

On-ball player with plenty of dash and a reputation for kicking goals. Good mark for his size.

Former All-Australian schoolboy, midfielder, played underage with Centrals. No senior football experience.

Can play in a key position at either end of the ground and, when drafted, was expected to be a star footballer. Could still be a star.

A running player with good ground skills, Connell's chances were limited at West Coast.

Tall centre half-forward who broke a leg in a match against Sydney. The son of former SA champion Barrie Robran.

Former South Australian Under 17s representative who showed good form in his debut season of 1994. Small, but lively.

A solid contributor whose dashes downfield from half-back flank set up countless Crow chances. Is a key player for the Crows.

Speedy rover or forward pocket who has knack of kicking goals. Used frequently from the interchange bench in 1994.

Tall and takes a good mark. Has been tried at centre half-forward, but has yet to live up to his enormous potential.

A superb young defender who even held down the full-back position with considerable success. Cool and dependable, Hall is a key player for the Crows.

Showed excellent form in his debut season of 1994. A dashing winger, McKinnon appears to have a very bright football future.

A superb ruckman who is extremely agile for his size. Takes an excellent mark and uses the ball well. Is a vital player for the Crows.

Tall key forward who can take a good mark. The son of former St Kilda player Lester Ross.

Solid utility who seems ideally suited to flank positions.

Champion full-forward with extraordinary leap. Kicked 13 goals in an opening round match against Carlton in 1994, but later suffered a knee injury.

Looked like developing into a champion AFL goalkicker, but has been converted to defence. Now is a solid and reliable centre half-forward.

A dashing winger who even can be used in a key position. Has great skills and kicks long. His 1994 season was interrupted by a knee injury.

Rejected by Hawthorn as a youngster, Lee made the most of his opportunities with the Crows and now is regarded as one of the best players in the competition.

A rover with excellent skills, Liptak seems to do his best work close to goal. Good link player.

Key forward who has been on Adelaide's list for more than two years.

One of the Crows' unsung heroes, Maynard is a reliable defender who rarely plays a bad game. Hard-working and an excellent mark.

Adelaide's first captain, McDermott has shown wonderful leadership qualities. Always putting his body on the line, McDermott is a key player for the Crows.

Brilliant rover whose work rate is astonishing. Always at the fall of the ball and has excellent skills. Is a key player for the Crows.

Big, solid ruckman who provides Shaun Rehn with excellent support. Good mark and a hard worker.

Versatile footballer who can play at either end of the ground. Had a solid 1994 season.

Courageous on-ball player, who had knee reconstruction surgery early in 1994 after a game for Norwood. The Crows missed him in 1994.

Can play in a key position at either end of the ground, but seems best suited to a defensive role. An excellent mark and a hard worker.

Sensationally skilled footballer, especially with his lightning quick handpassing. Wins many possessions, but is not quick on his feet.

Reliable utility, but has struggled to win a regular game with the Crows.

Dashing winger who loves to run with the ball. Has excellent skills, but had a disappointing 1994 season. Was originally drafted to the Crows.

Tremendously talented youngster who started his career in defence, but showed in 1994 that he can also star on the forward line.

A ferocious competitor who attacks the ball hard and knows no fear. Specialises at half-back, but can be used with great effect in other positions.

Strong half-back who played in all 1993 finals matches for the Crows, but has yet to win a regular berth.

Tall key position defender who has the potential to develop into a class full-back. Highly regarded.

Was at centre of a tug of war involving Collingwood, but now looks set to establish himself as a star with the Crows. Can play in a key position at either end of the ground.

A superb half-forward with wonderful ball skills. Hall is one of the best marks in the competition. Fought back courageously in 1994.

Handy utility who showed glimpses of class in his debut season of 1994.

Lightly-built defender with good skills. Had an excellent VSFL under 18s final series.

Highly rated youngster who was named in All-Australian Under 17 side in 1994 and won the Queensland best and fairest award.

Lightly-built youngster who played in the 1994 Victorian Country Commonwealth Bank Cup side. Plays mainly in defence.

Started AFL career as a highly promising forward and matured into a fearless, attacking on-ball player. Has been unexpected to be a star.

A pacy winger originally from Glenelg, whose battle with injuries over five seasons with the Bulldogs limited him to two games.

Extremely versatile footballer who can be used on the ball, on a wing or even at centre half-back. Mobile and takes an excellent mark.

Outstanding young footballer who shows maturity beyond his years. Well-built and has the potential to develop into a top player.

Versatile player who has been used on the ball and in defence.

One of the most decorated players in the AFL, Merrett sets a fine example for the younger Bears. Started his career as a key player for the Bears.

A tallish rover who now is a key player for the Bears. Works hard around the packs and has plenty of courage.

Skilful half-forward or winger who uses his pace to full advantage. Dangerous near goal.

Strong defender who often is asked to mind opposition's key forward. An excellent mark and rarely lowers his colors.

One of the most exciting newcomers to burst on to the AFL scene in 1994. Gave the Blues some badly needed pace and Star defender who had one of the best seasons in the AFL in 1994 after a nightmare start to the year on Adelaide's Tony Stepped up to become a regular senior player in 1994 and was one of the bright young lights for the Blues. Has tremendous On the verge of senior selections in 1994. Talented left-footer who shows plenty of dash across half-back in the reserves. Finally made his senior debut in 1994 and was one of the finds of the season for the Blues. Robust forward who leads well. Has the ability but sometimes lets himself down with undisciplined play and was rumored to be on the chopping block at the end of the year. Had a disappointing season in 1994 after breaking his leg on Carlton's end of season players' trip in 1993. Tried hard to make his name. Young ruckman who shapes as the logical replacement for Justin Madden. Still being groomed by the Blues but finally has made his mark. Solid utility who was sidelined for most of 1993 with a knee injury and managed just two senior games, including a finals appearance. Prefers to play in the bush and has indicated he will be returning home in 1995. Lively forward who is a popular character at Carlton but has had two disappointing seasons in 1993 and 1994. Managed just two senior appearances. Developing into a top flight defender and shows plenty of coolness and courage under pressure. Played all 24 games for the Blues. Has made the transition from promising type to an established senior player with some terrific performances over the past few years. The player of last year's Foster's Cup series looked set to make a name for himself with vibrant, energetic displays across the field. A versatile player who played 29 games with the Eagles after being drafted in 1992 from East Perth. Carried a $100,000 price tag. Tall flanker or key position player who made three senior appearances for the Crows in 1994. Was part of a pre-draft deal with the Blues. Left-footer joins his third AFL club after stints at Sydney and Footscray. A forward who could fill goal-kicking gaps for the Blues. Played in the reserves for all of 1994 and shapes as a player of the future. Tall half-forward who has worked hard over the past few years. Overcame ill-fated move to Collingwood in 1993 to bounce back and play a significant role for the Blues in 1994. Has lost his place to a younger player. One of the tragedies of 1994 after seriously hurting his knee in his first game for the Blues. Had worked tremendously hard over the past few years. Former Tasmanian who has played senior football at Brisbane and Carlton and had a three-year stint at St Kilda playing in the reserves. Lightly-built but exceptionally-skilled midfielder or wingman, brother of former Bear and Swan Matthew AhMat. Injured a knee in 1993. Hasn't done much over the pre-season because of a knee injury. A winger with plenty of pace. Terrific 1994 as supplementary list player in the reserves, winning the best and fairest. Started with Richmond but held back by injury. Played a few games with Collingwood reserves last year. A genuine rover, who is quick and clever near goal. Very strongly built for his tender years, left-footer with an excellent leap, could surprise this year. Small left-footer, quick and good with his hands. Strong tackler for his size, will be given time to develop. Quick centreline player, crossed to VSFL under 18s midway through last season. Solidly-built Norwood junior, key position player. Will stay in SA for 1995. Damaged a shoulder in a MCG wrestle halfway through the season just when he was beginning to slip into stride. Surgery followed. Niggling muscular and knee injuries robbed him of games here and there in 1994, but a fit Perth gave the Magpies a rock-solid performance. Former country spearhead showed former glimpses of real talent in 11 games during his debut season, mostly in defence. Just about Collingwood's most consistent player in recent years with three successive thirds in the Copeland Trophy. Impressive. Has had a shocking run with illness in recent years, in 1993 lying dangerously ill in hospital with a nerve virus, and last year in 1994. Experienced SA midfielder or defender was used more in attack by the Pies. Not overly pacy, but has worked hard on his game. Restricted to only 11 games last year because of knee injury. Getting on, but still very reliable at half-back, with good fitness. Tall defender, something of a late developer, who managed 10 senior games in his debut season after being originally drafted to the Blues. Played more games in 1994 than he had for previous two years, mainly in a back-pocket, sometimes tagging midfield. Another player who came on well in 1994 from a half-back flank, until a groin injury caused him to miss most of the end of the season. Has since returned to the Blues. Shocked West Coast, and perhaps Magpies fans as well, with a match-winning six-goal haul at the MCG in 1994. Didn't do much else. The "enforcer" of Victoria Park held down centre half-back last year, with occasional forays forward. Tough, dishes plenty of goals. One of the real success stories at Collingwood in 1994 after spending two previous years in the reserves. Began in a back-pocket. Better value in 1994 than in his previous couple of seasons, Francis on his game shapes as perhaps still Collingwood's most valuable player. Turned in a great pre-season last year, but had his 1994 destroyed by stress fractures of the feet, then persistent hamstring injuries. Has really found his niche on the half-back line, where his cool head and good hands have earned him state selection. Really a star. Definitely in the veteran class now, injuries and form have restricted his output, and he managed only 10 senior games last year. Finally made the move after two extra years in SA. Played state football against WA last season. Likely half-back. Fit and injury-free for the first time in several seasons, the Magpie skipper had a great 1994, tying with the star recruit Nathan Buckley. A knee injury set the SA running player back in 1993, last year it was glandular fever and a spell of plain poor form. Looking for a return to form. Important and often underrated defender, can take a key position if required. Used less up forward and on the ball these days. A very disappointing 1994 after showing such promise at full-forward with 73 goals in 1993. A knee injury troubled him most of the year. Not as good as in 1992-93, when he won successive Copeland Trophies, but still provided one of the season's highlights. Pacy and high-skilled half-forward, always looks the goods but still doesn't deliver them consistently enough or win enough.

Outstanding junior WA ruckman, set back by a knee reconstruction in 1992, and swapped pre-draft by the Eagles. Agile, quick, and accurate. A big money transfer from Brisbane put all the pressure in the world on the long-kicking SA utility in 1994, but he responded with a series of goals. Filled in for an injury-hit senior line-up twice last year but should get a longer taste this season. Not always consistent, but a reliable performer. Norwood rover, won 1993 best and fairest, has made the move east. At 24, will be expected to make his mark at senior level. Missed the last half of the season with a groin injury, operated on over summer. Talented goalsneak, whose lack of fitness has been a concern. Talented half-forward, arrived to do his reserves apprenticeship after staying with his school last year. Former NSW Teal cup utility, has shown potential in the reserves in defence or midfield. Still raw, plenty of time on his side. The former Bulldog full-forward was a real surprise packet in the key defence posts for the Magpies early last season before being moved to half-forward. Showed real promise at centre half-forward late in the season, mobile and willing. Had surgery to a nagging groin injury over summer. Continued his controversial career in 1994 with two tribunal appearances playing for the Swans. Hoped to return to Hawthorn. Blond ruckman with mobility. The Bombers are hoping he's half as good as their last blond youngster from Ringwood - Paul Kelly. ACT wingman continues to grow and fill out, and is shaping up as a potential key position player at reserves level. Medium-sized utility, very impressive in the Teal Cup and could be used on a wing or at half-forward in VSFL ranks this year. Exciting Aboriginal half-forward, won All-Australian Teal Cup selection, boarded in Melbourne last year and played for West Coast. Essendon has probably had the recruiting coup of 1994 by securing Matthew Lloyd. Member of Victorian metropolitan team. Geelong Falcons key position utility from Camperdown, an excellent mark and long left-foot kick. Morrish Medal winner took one of the season's great marks in the under 18 grand final. Not overly quick, but tough, the little rover. Supplementary list player upgraded by the Dons after a great 1994 in the reserves, winning the best and fairest. Hard-working rover. Pacy wingman, the son of former Essendon champion Ken Fraser has struggled since his tremendous debut in 1992. Terrible. WA centreman took some time adjusting to Melbourne last year, but managed four games towards the season's end. Good. Was headed for AFL oblivion until injuries granted him a reprieve late in the season and he responded with a series of goals. Managed to top club goalkicking in only 10 senior games, highlighted by a superb eight-goal haul in his debut against Sydney. The 1993 Brownlow medallist turned in a 1994 almost as good, finishing third in the best and fairest from a back-pocket, but injuries. Hard working ruck-rover or half-back flanker, tremendous tackler, but poor disposal remains a very big weakness in his game. Close to the recruit of 1994 before a knee injury ended his season prematurely. Highly-skilled half-forward with pace to burn. Just over 50 games in nine seasons at the club gives some indication of the number of injuries that set Flood back ritually. Overcame a lengthy pre-season suspension to earn more games in the ruck in 1994 than his previous years combined. Very good. After an injury-free two years, 1994 turned on Harvey, who damaged a knee against Carlton at Waverley in round nine and a hamstring injury then a broken arm kept the inspirational Bomber skipper to only 13 games in 1994, but he has worked hard. Surgery delayed his start to 1994, and a knee problem later didn't help, but the son of former Bomber champion Ken Fletcher. Very impressive debut year for the light but beautifully-balanced half-back. Fine natural skills, a cool head, can run, and can kick. Looked the goods as a smaller, mobile full-forward early in 1994, but fell away when relegated to the half-forward line. Quick. Started 1994 on a high, kicking the winning goal against West Coast for the second year running, but the season soon turned. It appeared at one stage during a traumatic recovery from a pre-season knee reconstruction like Long's brilliant 1993 grand final. After a shocking 1993 initiation to Windy Hill, the former Swan began to find his feet last year on a half-back flank until a serious injury. 1994 was a second tremendous year in succession for the former Geelong little man, finishing second in the best and fairest. A chronic achilles injury saw Wallis play just one game last year after eight in 1993, albeit one of them a grand final. Rugged. The lumbering ruckman's excellent 1993 finals form deserted him last year, reducing him to only 10 games. Skilled ruckman. By his own lofty standards, 1994 was only an average year for the experienced defender and on-baller after his best and fairest. A tremendous 1994, capped off by the best and fairest, a season in which his brilliance and adaptability in key positions shone. Not nearly as good from a half-forward flank in 1994 as the Don's premiership year, plagued by inaccuracy around goal. A very good. Was his brilliant and creative best across the half-forward line early in 1994, earning a state game, until a nagging groin injury. Another Baby Bomber who suffered something of a premiership hangover, Misiti was used mainly at half-back in 1994. Fine. The game is beginning to catch up with the stocky defender, but the South Australian should still squeeze out another year. Appeared to succumb to that popular curse, the premiership hangover, last year, managing only eight senior games on a half-back. Big-hearted and big framed Tasmanian redhead, played four games in his debut season, most memorably the Dons' MCCOY. Young premiership wingman was continuing to look the goods at senior level until injuring a groin in round eight, which kept him out. Continued his phenomenal rise early last year, when he won the E.J. Whitten medal for Victoria against SA, but injuries caused a dip. Experienced full back who was de-listed by Geelong before 1994 national draft. Played 21 games for the Cats last season. High-leaping young forward, debuted in the final game of the year against Carlton and impressed. Has grown some more. Made an unexpected senior debut straight away at just 17 last year after showing fine form at full-back during the Foster's era. The one-time erratic and undisciplined Richmond half-forward became a valuable on-ball contributor for the Bombers in 1994. Half-back and mid-fielders in the AFL will hope that Abraham never makes it on a permanent basis because he'll run them

The tall athletic ruckman is regarded as one of the brightest hopes in the Dockers' camp.

Intelligent young rover with a great attitude to his football. Creative and dangerous around goal. A Korean by birth, Bell was exciting player and very adaptable. Mobile and athletic, Burrows possesses a great leap. Certain to be tested in 1995. Has a great attitude to his football.

Matthew's brother, Jay is not as tall but is a natural athlete. Ruckman.

Some critics will claim that Matthew "Spider" Burton is a dinosaur in modern-day football, but the former Eagle is out to prove himself.

Tough, left-footed rover who won Swan Districts fairest and best in the first year of league football.

Originally from Shark Bay, Capewell is a hard, lively defender who impressed the Dockers over the pre-season and is set to make his mark in the AFL.

Talented rookie who has represented Victoria in junior ranks, and a former runner-up in the Monash Medal in the VSFL. A hard-working defender who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Chisholm comes from Darwin, where he played for Saint Mary's Football Club. An exciting player who has great pace. Set to make his mark in the AFL.

Comes from Darwin where he played for the Wanderers. A very quick and exciting player who has provided midfield pace and a great attitude to his football.

High-leaping ruckman who attracted interest from both Hawthorn and West Coast Eagles before bidding his time with Swan Districts.

Fast, skilful midfielder who has played a lot of WAFL football and has represented WA against SA.

Son of Australian golfer, Terry Gale, he's a gifted sportsman who could have chosen a number of other sports. Very talented and a natural athlete.

Exciting forward prospect who barely scratched the surface with Subiaco in his debut season last year. Full forward or half-back.

Fast-leading full forward who kicked 49 goals in his first season of WAFL in 1994. A bright long-term prospect who will serve the Dockers well.

A robust full forward who can kick a ball a country mile. Hutton wears a helmet but that hasn't stopped his fearless approach to his football.

Outstanding young Claremont half-back who completed an excellent first year of league football in 1994. A very mobile player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

A dashing defender at Claremont and a key player in their recent premiership successes. Able to take a great mark, Queensland's No. 1 pick in the 1994 National Draft.

Another of the Dockers' draftees from the east who joined the club over the pre-season. A former Teal Cup representative who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Originally drafted by Sydney, 4th selection 1991 national recruit draft. Played for Sydney in 1992 and 1993 before returning to the Dockers.

Talented winger with the speed of a gazelle, McManus was one of the mainstays of East Fremantle's successful 1994 season. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Impressed during a WA-SA game last season with his straight-kicking and sure marking. Menegola is well-balanced and has a great attitude to his football.

Hard-hitting centreman from Claremont who has a robust, fearless approach to his play.

Free-flowing midfielder who covers a lot of ground and has excellent disposal from either foot. A linkman who should feature prominently in the AFL.

Has been an outstanding player at his WAFL club, East Perth. Miller is of small stature but is a prolific kickgetter, and has a great attitude to his football.

Talented left-footer with good skills from the half-back line. Can play at centre half-back or on flank.

A pacy wingman recruited from Claremont in 1993. Season 1994 saw him play on a more regular basis. He joins the Dockers as a key player.

Recruited from Subiaco as a key defender. Had a very consistent season and is looking forward to the next step into AFL.

Hard working midfielder who cut his teeth under John Todd before having a season with Brisbane and one year with the Eagles. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Ruckman whose athletic approach allows him to play at centre half-back or centre half-forward. Somewhat of a football jobber who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Yet to make his mark in the WAFL, Toia was recruited on the strength of the signs he showed at Teal Cup. Rover who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

One of the most skilful of all the Dockers. Wardell-Johnson is a beautiful kick, either foot, and is sure to press claims in 1995. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

No. 1 Draft choice in 1994 National Recruit Draft. White impressed greatly during the Commonwealth Bank Cup in Perth last year. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Limited WAFL experience, but Wira easily fits into the mould of the modern-day defender who is not afraid to carry the ball. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Rangy ruckman who enjoyed a football rebirth under Gerard Neesham at Claremont. Wolf carried injuries in 1994 and has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

The football world was looking for something special when Delaney took on and beat Guy McKenna in his first AFL game. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Fremantle is Kickett's fifth AFL club after previously playing with Fitzroy, West Coast, St Kilda and Essendon. Has played in the AFL for several years. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Disappointing year in 1993 after appearing to have established himself in 1992. Has a tremendous leap, and is a beautiful kick. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Geelong's No. 1 pick in the 1991 National Draft. The 1994 season saw O'Reilly develop into one of the AFL's outstanding players. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Played in Geelong's two losing grand final sides in 1992 and 1994, and sandwiched between was an injury-riddled 1993. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

At Hawthorn last year, had disappointing return of seven matches for a total of only 40, including the 1989 premiership, in which he played a key role. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Established himself as one of the AFL's premier midfielders while at Hawthorn. Hard work and a high skill level is the recipe for success. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Tough-as-nails defender, who has a deceptively quick turn of pace. Gilbert is a straight-at-the-ball player who also enjoys a hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Had trouble with injuries in his first few years at North Melbourne. Season 1994 saw Mann emerge as a major contributor to the Dockers' success. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

A highly skilled centreman or rover who uses the ball creatively. Was unlucky to miss the 1992 Eagles premiership side because of injury. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

The powerfully-built former Sydney player established himself early in his career as a fullback but prefers to play in attack. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Gym work has seen the former Eagle build a powerful upper body. His great benefit to the Dockers is his strength and his ability to take a great mark. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Impressed the coaching staff over pre-season with his ability to be in the right place at the right time about goals. A cunning and hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Strong, physical type. Muir didn't cut in at North Melbourne but is still young enough and strong enough to enjoy his second year in the AFL. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Speedy winger who played well in the 1994 VSFL finals. He was the Lions sixth selection in the 1994 national draft. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Fitzroy's draft choice from its supplementary list, this small but tough rover is on the verge of making the next step. Won the Teal Cup in 1994. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

Promising young ruckman who can also play in a key position. Is the brother of Hawthorn's Nick Holland and the Lions ex-captain. A hard-working player who has impressed the Dockers over the pre-season.

The Lions have high hopes for this athletic key defender from South Australia. Played Teal Cup for SA in 1994.

Sheet1

Considered one of the top prospects in the 1994 national draft and his high selection indicates the Lions have no doubt that he will play for them. Played for Shepparton last year, but is a former Northern Territory representative in the Commonwealth Bank Cup. Did not play last year because he didn't like the lifestyle. Very strong player who has been training with the Lions. Quick, skilful utility who impressed in summer training with the Lions. Seems likely to taste senior football in 1995. Versatile type who can play in attack or defence. Played Teal Cup football in 1994.

Lanky, but talented, ruckman who never quite found things his own way at Carlton where he lived in the giant shadow of J. Big-hearted ruckman who has given the Lions good service since switching from Collingwood in 1993. Has not had much chance to shine. Talented but sometimes erratic forward who has also played a significant role in defence for the Lions. Fronting up for his team. Dashing defender who is not hard to miss on the field. Loves to run with the ball and has been known to take the odd risk. Talented wingman who boasts something of a rare commodity at Fitzroy this season - experience. Will also be called on to play. Promising youngster who was Fitzroy's first pick in the 1992 national draft. Was blooded last season and showed enough to be considered. Has played just 16 senior games in four years but gets a real chance at senior AFL football this season. Boasts no shortage of talent. Another player who boasts some badly needed experience and will be expected to play a bigger on-field role in 1995. Career has been up and down. Made significant improvement in 1994 and played three games towards the end of the season. Young ruckman who did not play last year. Versatile big man who has worked hard to overcome injuries. Had another setback in 1994 with a jaw injury but with a touch of luck. Young forward who had a taste of senior football in 1994. Had some knee problems towards the end of the season but showed promise. Rangy utility who drifted from the scene after playing for Melbourne in 1989. Has had a couple of seasons at Fitzroy and showed promise. Highly promising full-back who caught the eye with some impressive performances in defence last year. Shows plenty of potential. Lightly built rover who has yet to crack double figures in senior games after two seasons. Certainly has the opportunity to do so. Prolific possession winner in the VSFL for the Lions, averaging more than 30 touches a game. Has had limited opportunities to shine. Speedy utility who likes to run hard at the ball. Showed plenty of improvements in 1994 and will be expected to assume a bigger role. Former Collingwood under 19s captain who suddenly carries enormous responsibility this year. Was outstanding in the early part of the season. Was tipped to be a Footscray's captain before 1994 season but struggled for form and spent much of last season in the reserves. After devoting 17 years of his life to Footscray and passing Ted Whitten's games record, Footscray's favorite son has started to shine. There were a few raised eyebrows when this talented forward, who can also play in defence was traded to the Lions before the season. Tough little rover who battled persistent groin injuries at Melbourne. Gets another chance at a club in search of players with experience. Young full-back from North Melbourne who has spent the past two seasons in the Roos' VSFL side. Joins Fitzroy as part of a trade. Winger/half-forward who did not make the most of his chances at North Melbourne. The Lions believe he can become a real asset. Dealt to Fitzroy by Sydney in pre-draft negotiations and could be a handy acquisition. Best suited in defence where he is a natural. Spent 1994 in Fitzroy's VSFL side. Forward, utility type who has good pace and doesn't mind getting off the ground. Former South Australian who showed enough in limited appearances last year that he has a future in the AFL. Sure to get a chance. Old fashioned defender who runs hard at the ball and is an excellent kick. Will be keen to play more senior football in 1995. Turned in a disappointing season, his first at his new club. Was not helped by persistent back problems but had plenty of opportunities. Exciting young prospect who will benefit greatly from his first season of senior football. Played mainly in a forward pocket. One of the rookies of the year in 1994 and looks to have a big career ahead of him. Has been likened to a young version of J. Young defender who was high draft pick in 1993 national draft. Was given a chance in seniors in 1994 and did enough to be considered. Former Carlton utility who has plenty of VSFL experience but yet to crack it for a senior game. Probably on his last chance. Former Melbourne winger who made a reasonable fist of his first season with his new club. Even at 31 his greatest asset is his pace. Strongly built youngster who could hold down a key defensive position. Finished in Geelong Falcons' best and fairest in 1994. Small, but courageous defender. Played in Footscray's VSFL premiership side in 1994. Talented youngster from SA who has already played senior football and has represented his state in Teal Cup. Typical left-footed rover. Son of former Richmond rover, Frank Dimattina. Midfielder who played with Carlton and Richmond reserves before joining Footscray. Big wraps in this centreman/ruck-rover. Some say he is the best young player to come from Tasmania for many years and he is a key position player who has been on the Bulldogs' supplementary list. Member of the Bulldogs' VSFL premiership team. Former captain of Geelong Falcons and led his side into the 1994 VSFL grand final. Had a great finals series himself and showed promise. Former Melbourne rover he played some of his best football since transferring to Footscray in 1993. Uses his pace to advance the ball. Talented but sometimes erratic forward who needs a big season to make his place at Footscray totally secure. Fronting up for his team. One of the best players to arrive from interstate in 1994. Tenacious on-baller who can play attacking and defensive roles. Has spent the past two seasons developing in SA after being drafted by Footscray in 1992. Will be lining up for the Bulldogs in 1995. Had a reasonable season on the wing for the Bulldogs in 1994. Loves to run and his pace is well suited to the Western Oval. One of Footscray's most improved players in recent seasons and probably at the point where he could make a big impact. Stepped up to senior company last year after showing great promise as a junior. Can play on the ball and has a wonderful kicking game. Crossed from SA last year and was nursed along in the VSFL, playing just one game in Footscray's seniors. Big man who Came good towards the end of 1994 after being sidelined through injury in the early and middle part of the season. In a fine acquisition for the Cats from SA. Played every game and had no problems adjusting to the tempo and pressure of first grade. Has never been able to get himself fully fit in his short time with the Cats and therefore his opportunities at senior level have been limited. Last year was a season this champion centre half-forward will want to forget in a hurry. Battled to shake off a persistent calf injury. Young ruckman who has spent most of the past two seasons in the Cats' VSFL side. Made his senior debut towards the end of the year. Big key position player who is a thumping left-foot kick. Started the season well but form fell away and ended up in the VSFL. Talented forward fresh off his best season to date in the AFL. Has always shown promise and played in all four finals for Collingwood. Looked as though he was going to be a topline player at St Kilda before being traded to Hawthorn in 1993. Did not shape up. Spent four seasons at North but lived in the shadow of brother Craig and played just two senior games (64 games in the VSFL). Dealt to Collingwood in exchange for Brett Chalmers, he lasted just one season at Victoria Park before being traded to Geelong. Young defender who was given the chance to develop in the reserves in 1994. Could be ready to take the next step this season. Young half-forward who is being brought along quietly by the Cats. Played reserves in 1994. Talented centreman best remembered for his second outing at senior level. Came into the Cats' qualifying final side against North Melbourne. Lightly built but elusive utility who was a real find for the Cats in 1994. Got better as the season progressed and was unlucky not to score. Young winger from SA who missed most of 1994 because of a knee injury. The Cats will monitor his fitness before deciding on his future. Played in Geelong's first four games after being picked up in the 1994 pre-season draft. Struggled with injuries and form throughout the year. Assumption College half-forward, played Commonwealth Bank Cup last year, and will be given time to develop. Prolific possession-winner from Western Jets was a surprising omission from the 1993 national draft but another good year for him. Outstanding record in junior football, and the Hawk's first pick in the 1994 national draft. Highly-skilled centreman or ruck-rover. Graduated from 1994 supplementary list, the Haileybury College player spent plenty of time in the reserves last year, and was a key player. Very highly rated centre half forward who had a shoulder injury which restricted him in 1994. Good athlete who is a long kick. Tasmanian teenager is a tall, rangy sort, could be used across half-forward but will be given time to develop at VSFL level. Geelong Falcons centre half-back, played in last year's under 18 grand final. Long kick and good overhead. The twin brother of 1994's Norwich Rising Star, Brisbane's Chris, Brad is a centreman or ruck-rover with good skills. The Hawks delisted Taylor last year when he had to have his second knee reconstructed. After a year out, Taylor has managed to return. Skilled defender has been around a long while without cementing regular senior berth. Managed six senior games in 1994. Former Fitzroy youngster managed 14 games with the Hawks last year, mainly in defensive or tagging roles. Good, honest player. The freakish South Australian's last two years haven't approached his super 1992, but his second half in 1994 was close to his best. It took a long time, but the Hawk's have finally delivered the younger brother of short-time Hawk Matthew. Taller, Jonathon is a key player. The legend continues. The bald statistics of 101 goals for 1994, his fifth ton, tells only half the story of a season marred by injury. Showed more in 11 games last season than he had in four previous seasons at senior level. Lightly-framed forward can kick and run. Played two games at full-back last year after injury to skipper Chris Langford. A good mark, although can be found for pace. Still the man the Hawk supporters love to turn on, the skillful half-forward nevertheless managed 47 goals last year, and could be a key player. Failed to improve on the promise he showed in six 1993 appearances, adding only four games to his tally last year. Hard-working. Enjoyed his best season with the Hawks last year until a back injury began to slow him down, and a serious knee injury in 1994. The cool headed half-back's disposal skills are second only to Jarman at Glenferrie, where he is very much a senior face. The Hawk skipper's 1994 started disastrously with a hamstring strain in the second round, but the athletic full-back more than made up for it. Very athletic defender filled centre half-back admirably in essentially his debut season. Strong runner and good overhead. The champion SA rover followed probably his poorest season of league football with a vintage blinder in 1994, typified by a number of errors. The last two seasons have been disappointing for the skillful Tasmanian wingman, 1994 hampered by persistent ankle and knee injuries. Still a solid contributor, but Collin's last two seasons have been far from his best. Niggling injuries kept the disciplined and hard-working. Like Paul Dear, the Queenslanders has really struggled since playing in a major role in the Hawk's 1991 flag, although knee injuries. It's been mostly downhill for Dear since his 1991 Norm Smith Medal, at first through injury, more recently, simply poor form. Managed 14 appearances in promising debut year, and played in the Hawk's one final. Straight-ahead type, hits the ball hard. Enjoyed a terrific 1994, finishing third in the best and fairest appearing in every game on a half-back flank or back-pocket. Not nearly as good last season as during a tremendous 1993, but courageous half-back flanker began to recapture his best form. Played nine games in debut year at senior level, including the qualifying final. Pacy wingman with good stamina has plenty of potential. Underrated key forward or defender who was more than serviceable in 20 games last year, mostly at centre half-forward. Thrown in at the deep end early last year after injury to Stephen Lawrence, the blond ruckman struggled in nine games to establish himself. An outstanding talent, still only 20, Crawford has delivered two out of two good seasons for the Hawks, last year continuing his form. The agile and talented key forward has been one of the Swan's few pluses in recent years, booting 68 goals last year to take the team to the top. The broad-shouldered former Crow fell out of favor in Adelaide last year after showing tremendous promise in a key forward role. West Australian key forward debuted early last year after injury to Jason Dunstall. Managed only three games but made good use of them.

Sheet1

A lot stronger with a year at Glenferrie under his belt, the long-kicking forward should take the next step to his development.

Best and fairest winner for premiership side Northern Knights in 1993, Lekkas took some time to settle into things at reserves.

Close to getting a senior game early last year, expected to earn his share of senior outings this year on a wing or half-forward.

Began the year in unfortunate headlines as the head Dermott Brereton stepped on, but ended it a name in his own right, in a game.

The former Fitzroy player the Hawks took a punt on last March ended the year a surprise packet as a late inclusion in the team.

Younger brother of Essendon half-forward, Che Cockatoo-Collins. Dominated the junior ranks for Port Adelaide in 1994. Highly skilled young Aboriginal rover/forward-pocket from south-west WA, dangerous around goal. Has played Teal Cup football.

Only took up football two years ago after forsaking basketball. Pacy Western Jets forward earned Teal Cup selection last year.

Tough and explosive centreman from Wangaratta, graduated from Demons' supplementary list after spending most of 1993 in the reserves.

Pacy Northern Knights ruck-rover or wingman, good endurance, made six appearances in the reserves last season.

Balanced, poised and skilled SA wingman played half-a-dozen senior games for South Adelaide last year. Will have to build up senior experience.

High leaping half forward whose career has been restricted by injury. Also played 80 reserves games for North which developed his skills.

Exciting left-footer half-forward from Shepparton, dangerous around goal, and will be given plenty of time to learn the ropes at senior level.

Fell out of favor at Fitzroy after three solid seasons on the half-back line. Quite quick for his size, runs straight and hard at the ball.

Not quite as good last year as his best and fairest-winning 1993, but the tremendously-fit veteran ruck-rover and tagger was still a force.

Back and hamstring injuries reduced the 1992 best and fairest winner and 1993 runner-up to only 11 games last year. Looked to return to form.

Tremendous early last season on a wing, in clearly his best season at senior level, though shoulder problems slowed him down towards the end.

Pacy and highly skilled back-pocket or midfielder, who was a key part of the Demon rise early in 1994 until a broken collarbone ended his season.

Tremendous clubman and defensive stalwart is coming towards the end and can be found out for pace, but still managed to play 18 games.

Arrived as a genuine AFL star centre half-forward in 1994, playing every game, including a couple of finals "blinders", and was a key player.

Slow start to 1994 after recovering from ankle reconstruction, but hit form at the perfect time, coming of age as a senior player.

Formed a devastating ruck tandem with Jim Stynes early last season, alternating up forward, but was cut down by a knee injury.

Maintained his incredible durability by again appearing in every match, but knee and ankle problems reduced the Brownlow Medal tally.

A cool head and composed user of the ball, prospered with more time in the centre in 1994 and played every match. One of the best in the league.

Won his second best and fairest with a superb captain's season, which reached its peak after he was shifted to the goals.

A better year in 1994 than his previous couple for the long-kicking centreman or ruck-rover, who earned 18 games in a fine season.

Pacy, running back-pocket. Went backwards last year, plagued by groin problems, after a very promising 1993 debut. Fitted to play 18 games.

Tall, athletic centre half-back had a big 1994, representing his state and even getting the better of Wayne Carey. Only two games.

Probably a make or break third year for the lanky Queenslander, who has been hampered by stress fractures to the feet.

Older brother of Sydney's Darren Gaspar. Key forward drafted in 1992 who joined Demons in 1993.

Determined, plenty of pace, used to best effect from a half-back flank. Steady as ever in 1994, one of only five Demons to play 18 games.

Second in the club best and fairest after a third in 1993, a genuine star now after another great year on a wing, but nearly lost to injury.

Injury-free for the first time in years, Wight repaid the Demons' persistence with him with his best season, playing all but one game.

Showed the first real glimpse of his ability in 1994 with 19 games, shining on a half-forward flank and winning the Demon's Best and Fairest.

Time is starting to catch up with the veteran defender or wingman, but his coolness under pressure still served the Demons well.

Rugged looking son of former Demon Graham Molloy added six appearances to his previous tally of one last year, mostly on a wing.

A steady 1994, marked by some bags of goals, and during the finals, success as a running half-back. Has worked hard to improve his game.

With plenty of others of his type in the senior queue, managed only four games last year, filling in backline holes. Good club player.

Has his knockers, but former SA Eagles' key defender contests hard, nullifies better credentialled opponents, and was reviled by some.

Clever half-forward, played handful of senior games for South Fremantle last year. Athletic, but shin problems have caused him to miss games.

Strong, aggressive and versatile, but the now veteran South Australian was plagued by knee problems in 1994. Always used to play in the reserves.

De-listed by St Kilda before 1994 national draft. Winger or half back who did pre-season at Melbourne. Played 38 VSFL games.

Big key forward from Assumption College with big things expected of him after steady year at reserves level. Should debut in 1995.

Exciting SA utility, good overhead and a long kick, played two reserves games last year but broke an ankle at training. Returned to play in 1995.

Versatile former Teal Cup All-Australian, combined VCE year last year with reserves football. Adaptable, capable of pinching a few games.

Took time to find his feet but became an important ruck partner for Jim Stynes by the end. Former West Coast grand finalist.

Lightly built centreman took out reserves best and fairest last year after being picked up in the pre-season draft. Needs to build up senior experience.

Didn't play as much football as hoped last season due to injury, but the athletic Western Jets' ruckman or key position player was still a force.

Young centre half back who will stay with Central Districts in the SANFL in 1995 to further develop.

Played in Central District's thirds last year and has played Teal Cup. Good-sized midfielder, a bet for the future.

Free-running back-pocket or half-back flank, has arrived at Arden St with impressive credentials, and at 22, more experienced than he looks.

Courageous ball-getter for Southern Stingrays, showed tremendous form in last year's Teal Cup out of the centre or ruck-rover position.

Talented half-forward or forward-pocket from Northern Knights, needs to work harder to give himself every chance at senior level.

Sheet1

Has overcome a serious knee injury and capable of recapturing his long-kicking best. The Tasmanian left-footer was acquired by the Roos. Solid defender who can also swing in attack when needed. Good mark for his size. Delisted by Footscray in February, 1994. Has another chance of making something of his career after finding himself on the outer at Kardinia Park in recent times. Made an amazing comeback to play in North's preliminary final side after requiring a knee reconstruction well into the season. Has had his job description changed from attacking on-baller to negator in recent years and continued to play mostly tagger. A reasonable 1994, but hasn't really taken the step to star status since his 1991 best and fairest. Still being used mainly on the wing. Injuries hit the highly skilled tall runner again last season after leaving him alone for a while, but he emerged later to play. The best player in the game now after his third magnificent season in a row, highlighted by two of the great individual final appearances. Required less now the Roos' big man stocks are as plentiful as they have ever been, but could still play a big role, probably as a tagger. Started the year slowly, but was superb at centre half-back for the Roos thereafter. Became a much more attacking defender. A very good recovery from a 1993 knee reconstruction. Managed 78 goals from full-forward as a key component of North's success. Made his senior debut in 1994 with three appearances. Former All-Australian Teal Cup centreman had a good year in the reserves. Tall and athletic half-back, the perfect build for the modern footballer, but has been a disappointment, managing only four goals. Finished fourth in the best and fairest after a wonderful 1994 on a half-back flank. Wiry, very tough for his size, works hard. Has had a terrible run since being "welcomed" to AFL ranks with a hefty fine for draft tampering, managing only 13 in two seasons. No senior games last year and only 23 in five seasons means this is crunch time for the half-forward flanker, the son of North's legend. Showed flashes of brilliance during his first 11 games for the club last season, good mark and likes kicking goals. Fitness and speed. Had only one senior outing to his name this time last year, but by season's end had stamped himself not only clearly the best player in the reserves. A slow start to 1994, but the experienced Roo finished it superbly from a half-forward flank or wing, and was one of North's best players. Earned runner-up status in the best and fairest for the second year in succession. Outstandingly fit rover, a tremendous tagger. Got a taste of senior football last season, sparking a flood of offers for him from other clubs. Very tall and has added considerable weight. Another good year for the rejuvenated defender, playing every one of North's 24 games in a back-pocket. Courageous, good mark. A terribly disappointing 1994 after showing so much promise and a good deal of wizardry in 1993. Could manage only 22 goals. Runner-up in reserves best and fairest last year, used mainly at centre-half back and full back. Good close-checker, kicking well. Fiery rover started 1994 in fine style, but trailed off badly towards the end after having played for his state in 1993. Aggressive. Disappointing year in 1994 after making tremendous strides the season before, though ankle and groin injuries didn't help. An outstanding season, his best, landed him North's best and fairest award. A real dasher on a wing, whose thumping left foot is a terror. Younger brother of Brownlow Medallist Scott Wynd, has had his share of injury problems. Used mainly in a back-pocket or as a rover. Has had a big impact in two seasons since arriving from Fitzroy. Very fit defender who last season continued to develop in the reserves. The cruellest image of 1994 remains Martyn squatting in the MCG goalsquare, through no fault of his own watching Gary Ablett. Had an exceptional year in the reserves, where he won the best and fairest and managed four senior appearances as well. A real surprise packet last year after being drafted out of the VFA. Used on a wing, he managed 19 goals, including final goal. Smart left-footer, settled into reserves football on a half-back flank in 1994. Has put in a big pre-season in the reserves. Spent the year developing in the reserves in 1994. Key position player, mainly at centre half-forward. Originally drafted by the Swans, but last season was injury-hit with stress fractures to his feet. Likely to play at half-back. Proved a great pre-season draft pick by the Roos early in the season before suffering stress fractures of the feet, which sidelined him. The son of former Richmond champion Francis Bourke, David is rated a top key forward prospect. Tall and agile ruckman who has returned to Australia after a stint in American baseball. Strong mark and dangerous near goal. A classy midfielder with good pace. One of the youngest players selected at the 1994 draft. A midfielder with plenty of speed, Gordon was named an All-Australian Under 17s player in 1994. Athletic defender with good skills. Midfielder or defender with good skills and a big leap. Lightly-built rover or half-forward with good speed and excellent goal sense. The son of former Melbourne star Tony Sullivan. Powerful full-forward who has had two knee reconstructions. Is almost the "forgotten man" of AFL football. When fit, is an excellent player. Very solidly built forward who has twice been de-listed by Richmond in October, 1993 and October, 1994, only to be re-drafted. Half-forward flanker with good skills. Has plenty of pace, but struggled to win regular selection in 1994. Had an excellent debut season in 1994. A solid, reliable half-back flanker who does plenty of running. Good skills. A tremendous on-ball player who never seems to stop running. Courageous to a fault and his jaw injury late in 1994 possibly ended his career. Skilful South Australian who had an excellent debut season with Tigers in 1994. Can be used in a number of positions, including rover. Francis' career has been dogged by injury. Carries an extremely light frame, but has wonderful skills. Is a tremendous mark. Skilful utility who seems to do his best work from a forward pocket. Has great goal sense. Versatile youngster who is expected to develop into a top defender. Has had severe injury problems. Promising ruckman, who has served a long apprenticeship in the reserves. Uses the ball well.

Sheet1

Tall key position forward. Takes an excellent mark, but accuracy with kicking can be a problem.

Hard-working on-ball player particularly dangerous near goal. Takes an excellent mark for his size and has plenty of courage.

Lightly-framed centre half-back who plays dour and dogged football to restrict opponents. Takes an excellent overhead mark.

A Tiger favorite, Maxfield is a dashing winger who loves to run with the ball. He kicks long and runs hard at the ball.

Played as a winger with Carlton, but blossomed into an excellent on-baller with Richmond. Is a very attacking "tagger" and a goal threat.

Now considered one of the best running players in the competition, Campbell has good skills and is a high possession-winner.

Bower had a fine 1994 season. Can play on a wing or in defence and has good skills. Brother Brendan played with Richmond.

Lightly-built ruckman who failed to win senior game in 1994 because of the arrival from Hawthorn of Greg Dear.

Plays in a key position, usually in defence and often is asked to mind much bigger players. Takes a strong mark and runs hard.

Exciting young full-forward with enormous potential. An excellent mark, but kicking sometimes astray. The son of former Tiger.

An outstanding on-ball player who just keeps getting the ball and using it to perfection. Is a key player for the Tigers because of his skills.

Tall centre half-forward who hit top form in 1993 after overcoming glandular fever. A particularly strong mark and a long kicker.

Kellaway has developed into an outstanding defender. Runs straight at the ball and is cool under pressure. Had a fine 1994 season.

Can play at either end of the ground, but often is used at full-back. Has developed into a fine player for the Tigers.

Strongly built key forward who began his career with Footscray (1988-91) spent 1992 with Sydney then joined Adelaide for the 1993 season.

Experienced ruckman who had his share of premierships triumphs with Hawthorn. A severe knee injury cost him his place in the 1994 draft.

Can be used at either end of the ground, but seems to do his best work in defence. Has played at full-back. A safe mark.

A highly skilled ruck-rover who generates plenty of drive around the packs, Broderick had a tremendous 1994 season with Hawthorn.

Rover with good skills. Dangerous near goals, but had a disappointing debut season with Richmond in 1994.

Hard-working and solid half-back flanker who has been dogged by hamstringing injuries over recent seasons. Joined brother in 1994.

Big, strong ruckman or key position player who had excellent junior record in WA.

Forward with good skills. Expected to become a Richmond regular.

Half-forward who made a sensational goalkicking debut in 1994. Has exquisite skills and is a superb mark for his size.

Lightly-framed defender with great courage and excellent skills.

Tall half-forward who takes a strong mark. Has served a long apprenticeship at Richmond.

Speedy rover who starred for the Falcons last year. High draft pick and seems to have a bright future.

Mobile forward who played with Collingwood reserves last season and did pre-season training with the Magpies before being drafted.

Young ruckman who hails from Bairnsdale. Will need time to develop and build himself up.

Highly promising ruckman/defender from Geelong. Has the size and athletic skills and it was no surprise when the Saints drafted him.

Young rover originally drafted by the Saints in 1992 as 46th selection overall. Has been playing in St Kilda's VSFL side and has shown promise.

Young rover from Southern Stingrays who has good speed and stamina.

Athletic half-back flanker who was a member of the SANFL Eagle's grand final team last season.

Plucked from the amateurs at last year's draft. Could be a gamble but he is a speedy type who can play half-forward.

The Saints opted for this young ruck-rover as their number 1 draft pick, fifth overall in the 1994 national draft. Very strong mark.

Prolific ball winner who was best afield in last year's SANFL grand final. Can play on the wing or on the ball.

Twin brother of Shane who has been traded to the Saints by Fremantle in pre-draft deal. Hails from Port Adelaide and stands tall.

Another part of the Lockett deal, this former Hawthorn utility has plenty of speed and will appreciate returning to the wide field.

Comes to St Kilda with former Hawthorn teammate Glenn Nugent as part of complicated swap of draft choices and the Saints' need for a rover.

Turned in his best season to date in the AFL when he played all 22 games for the Saints in 1994. Had to fill in when Tony Stewart was injured.

Young key position player who is the son of former Saints big man Brian Sierakowski. Has been nursed along quietly by the Saints.

Versatile big man who can play in attack or defence. Covered for Stewart Loewe in his first season for the Saints and was a key player.

Experienced and creative centreman who has been a fine servant for almost a decade. Not the most spectacular player but a reliable performer.

Came on the AFL scene three seasons ago while still at high school but has lost his way in the past two years playing just for the Saints.

Strongly built utility who has struggled to win a regular spot with the Saints over the past six seasons. Can be very handy in attack.

Unassuming but very consistent defender who has made the grade over the past three seasons. Does not win a lot of possession.

Veteran defender who has given the Saints loyal service since coming down from Ballarat more than a decade ago. Is the Saints' most experienced defender.

Bounced back from a bad run of injuries in 1993 to hold down the No. 1 ruck position for most of the season in 1994. Big and strong.

One of the more under-rated players in the AFL, Grant is closing in on 200 games and is now in the top three in terms of games played.

Tall left-footer who has shown plenty of promise in his two seasons in senior ranks. Is being developed as a ruckman but has not yet made his mark.

Had a terrible time in 1994 trying to get himself fit and in the end struggled to produce anywhere near his best. Plagued by injuries.

Highly promising half-forward who moves well on his preferred left foot and has an abundance of skills. Still fairly light but has shown great promise.

Talented defender who has the height and ability to succeed at St Kilda. Reads the play well but needs to be a little more consistent.

Has been a good pick up for the Saints but has struggled with injuries in his two seasons at Moorabbin. A serious ankle injury in 1994.

Sheet1

Former South Australian who has been with the Saints for the past two seasons. Strongly built position player who is hoping to make a name for himself in 1994. Was named in the 1993 All-Australian team.

Wonderfully gifted forward/utility who put controversies of previous season behind him to play consistently in 1994. Was named in the 1993 All-Australian team.

Another great season for this outstanding utility who gives it 100 per cent week in, week out. One of the more durable players in the league.

Former Hawthorn premiership utility who has been a solid performer for his new club over the past two seasons. Likes to play in the back pocket.

Champion ruck-rover who has battled persistent leg and groin injuries over the past two years yet still has been able to perform at a high level.

Robust forward who has been a capable fill-in for Tony Lockett in recent seasons. Obviously will get plenty of chances with the Saints.

Very experienced utility who had the distinction of joining a select few last year when he played his 100th game for the Saints.

One of the few bright lights for the Saints last year when he turned in an outstanding season playing in the back pocket. Gave the Saints a real boost.

Traded to the Saints as part of the Tony Lockett deal. Strongly built youngster from Canberra who can play on the ball or in the back pocket.

Fresh-faced youngster who made a promising debut in 1994. Only lightly built and will have to add more body strength but has good skills.

After missing the entire 1993 season with a shoulder injury, he did well to break into senior company in his first year at Sturt.

Ruckman and key position player who had a good record in the Victorian amateurs before being drafted by the Saints last year.

Made the most of his second chance at AFL level by playing 15 games for the Saints in 1994. Former North Melbourne rover.

A champion full-forward, Sumich kicked 111 goals in 1991, but was troubled by hamstring injuries in 1994. A strong mark, dangerous near goal.

Had a sensational 1991 season, but later went into self-imposed "exile". Returned in 1994, but unable to show his 1991 form.

Hard-working and courageous on-ball player who now plays excellent attacking and defensive football. Is a key Eagle player.

Yet another Eagle mid-fielder, with the ability to run throughout the match. Has good skills.

Plays the game at a frantic pace and with enormous enthusiasm. Has pace and flair and is extremely dangerous near goal.

An invaluable footballer as he can play in a key position at either end of the ground. Seems best suited to centre half-forward.

Strong key position player who was groomed in the WAFL competition in 1993. Highly-regarded youngster.

Another key position prospect for the Eagles. A fine mark.

Lightly-built utility who had not played at AFL level to the end of the 1994 season. Good skills.
