Sheet1

If you are female, this Rune predicts that a man who has been travelling will enter your life -- but it is not certain whether this is now less emphasis on romance in your life, and more on your male friendships.

Present relationships require much inner strength. Happy results are in the future, after much sincere effort and plodding along.

You are faced with a decision, but all the issues are not clear. It would be better to wait for more understanding before making a decision.

You may be tempted to elope, or make some other hasty decision. No matter what the issues, acting suddenly and without preparation is not advised.

Something beyond your control interferes with your romantic relationships. This could be the jealousy of others, the harassment of others, or something beyond your personal control. Your best course is to be patient and understanding and to behave with integrity.

This Rune indicates a cooling or ending of an emotional relationship. There may be a separation, or chronic arguing.

A change which involves new friendships or new financial arrangements is beneficial to you. Look for fire symbols as tokens of change.

Some kind of financial gain comes at this time. It will probably be something quite unexpected, such as a win on a race horse or a pension plan refund.

A journey is indicated. This may not be a distant or long-lasting journey -- in fact, it could be as simple as a trip to the store. But it is a significant change in your outlook.

This Rune has to do with fertility and children, and indicates that a major change in your life will have something to do with procreation.

You will make a complete change in yourself. It could be the result of some sudden insight, but is more likely the product of a long process. You will support this change, but it is absolutely necessary for you.

This Rune symbolizes the harvest, and suggests that something you have worked on for a long time, such as a course of study, is coming to a close.

This is a positive sign. You will make a new friend, who will be a source of great enjoyment in your life.

Long-standing disagreements among friends will finally be resolved.

Many changes occur in your life, and may cause you to lose touch with old friends.

A tolerant and flexible attitude is important in getting along with friends, especially in large groups where not everyone agrees. Although going out, attending parties, and visiting with friends is an important and enjoyable part of life, you can push yourself too hard.

Your life, especially your health. It is important to step out of your own age group, and to cultivate friendships among people from all walks of life. Other people can provide you with new perspectives.

If you have been planning a vacation, this is a favorable time to go. Even if you have nowhere special to go, this is a good time to relax. A good friend will need your emotional support.

The Rune warns against taking sides in a dispute among friends. Try to see the whole picture, rather than being influenced by one side. This Rune, which has an astrological connection to the planet Saturn, addresses the impatient side of your nature. It is important to be patient.

You must accept that fact that some events are beyond your control. This Rune speaks of the need to work with these events rather than against them. Interruptions. This Rune has an astrological connection to the planet Uranus.

A friendship that was once very valuable to you seems to become more distant. Probably you and your friend have simply grown apart. After a time of turning inward, you are now ready to explore partnerships and new kinds of relationships. You are no longer in a rut.

This is a time in your life when you want to concentrate on improving your material circumstances.

Communications of all kinds are favorably indicated. You have a desire to call old friends, write and receive letters, and express your feelings. You may be making a decision regarding marriage and family. This is a time when your interest in parenthood is strong.

You discover new techniques of problems solving and are able to simplify your thinking in many areas.

After a quiet time of inner reflection, you are ready to bloom socially.

You are developing the spirit of generosity within yourself.

There are many things that you want to keep hidden, secrets about yourself that you do not want to share with anyone, not even your closest friends. No harm comes to you -- in fact, by releasing the secrets, you are actually able to communicate more clearly and function more effectively.

You find yourself resisting change. It is time to let go of your resistance.

Sometimes your sense of expectation and hope for good things in the future causes you to ignore what is happening in the present. At this time in your life, you need to develop your concern for humanity -- to go beyond the interests of a small circle of friends.

You need to seek new interests. Even trivial-seeming pursuits can offer you the mental variety you need to stimulate your intellect. The blank Rune is the Rune of karma, or destiny. Even when influenced by events or situations that seem predestined or beyond your control, you can still make choices.

As much information as possible and using it to develop a deeper understanding of the patterns in your life.

Love and sexuality are of great interest to you now. You may be surprised at the results.

Sheet1

You are ready to give up some old habits and move on to a more interesting phase of your life.
Change of some kind -- any kind -- just for the sake of change -- this is what you find yourself craving.
You may have psychic abilities that are as yet undiscovered. Study in all areas of human endeavor leads to deeper self understanding.
You are inclined to push yourself too hard, and often emphasize mental values at the expense of physical needs.
If you are still in school, you will receive encouragement in the form of academic honors, a scholarship, or the interest of a sponsor.
Your interest in education, and to involve yourself in study and intellectual pursuits.
There may be an opportunity for travel. The desire to see other places is strong right now.
There are many rich opportunities available to you now if you are willing to invest the time necessary to make the most of them.
You may have to choose between working for money or working toward your own growth. Do not make a hasty decision, since time is of the essence.
It is important to study the reasons for your impatience and impulsiveness.
You must not allow yourself to be too deeply disturbed by "disasters" which seem to interfere with your plans or take you away from your goals.
The things that once interested you don't seem quite so important now. You may decide to leave behind the colleagues who hinder your progress.
You seek emotional protection. This is not necessarily a sign of weakness, but a means of survival. Nevertheless, it may be time to stand on your own feet, to assert your true identity in the world, to stand on equal footing with those around you, and to carry out your own best potential.
All indications are positive. Both your romantic life and your financial situation promise fulfillment. You seek a position of emotional security.
It is also important for you to allow spontaneity, in yourself and those close to you. Your goal is to find the balance between what is necessary and what is desirable.
Travel is indicated, but it may simply be a symbol of your progress in the journey of life. Social interaction brings you much pleasure.
You may be inclined to emphasize too many superficial values. Your goal is to reach a particular level of understanding and skill in living.
Fertility, both physical and mental, is strongly indicated. You are able to build and create many satisfying things. Nevertheless, you also need to receive. Your goal is to grow beyond the need to live up to external expectations.
Extreme change is indicated. Those who care about you may be disturbed by the direction you seem to be taking, and they may not understand your deepest needs, apart from what anyone else might think is good for you. Your goal is to remain considerate of others while acting on your own.
You want results. It is important to remember that what you invest bears a direct relation to what you eventually get back from it. Find the right balance, so that you invest no more and no less than what is necessary to obtain your best possible reward.
New acquaintances please you. Nevertheless, you must take care not to completely abandon well established relationships simply because they are old.
Your goal is to assure benefit both to yourself and to those who help you.
Secrets abound, both those you keep, and those that are kept from you. Privacy and discretion are important to you. Nevertheless, you must maintain relationships with others. Happiness will come when you least expect it, in ways you had not foreseen. Your goal is to live an open life.
Resisting change is one technique for survival. Nevertheless, progress is inevitable, and too much resistance only makes it more difficult. Revitalize your approach to life. Your goal is to differentiate between useful changes and harmful ones, so that you can make the most of life.
You want more from life, and you may well be able to profit from the generosity of others. Family values that have been passed on to you are a danger that you will emphasize material goods over strength of character, especially if things are made easy for you by friends.
You must continue investing your own effort and growth.
There may be conflict between your spiritual and humanitarian aspects, and the need to deal realistically with practical matters.
You need a realistic evaluation of all questions. Your goal is to improve your own position in the world and to take control of your personal affairs.
Your nature is happy and giving, and you are always willing to share, both materially and emotionally, with those who are like you.
You are bored too easily and to approach life too casually. Your goal is to find the things that truly stimulate and engage you as a whole person.
The blank Rune symbolizes all the aspects of your life that were set long ago and cannot be changed now -- your genetic makeup.
You recognize that you must accept these things as they are. Nevertheless, you also have free will, and the ability to control your own destiny.
Strong emotions fill your life and are a source of pleasure and fulfillment on many levels. Nevertheless, there are also times when you act based on the passion of the moment, but on your overall best interest. Your goal is to enjoy your feelings and emotions without being controlled by them.
You bring your own special, creative outlook to the problems and complications in life. A conventional approach will not help you. You are able to move on to something completely different. Your goal is to have faith in your own ability to change yourself and the world around you.
Change attracts you. New jobs, new homes, new friends, all contribute to your progress. Nevertheless, simply making a change is not enough. No matter how far you go, you take yourself, and your past, with you. Sometimes the most interesting and extensive changes are made when you decide to create something new that includes both.
Your intuition and intellect are both reliable guides in your life. Nevertheless, you have undiscovered depths and talents, which you must explore. Your deepest well of creativity and understanding.
Your life force is powerful, and you can rely on your ambition and stamina to accomplish great things. Nevertheless, you are inclined to real needs of your body and mind for rest and nourishment. Your goal is to relinquish control appropriately, and to allow yours. Your youth and vigor are important to you, but you cannot ignore the inevitability of aging. It is important to avoid a stereotype of right and wrong ways to grow old. Your goal is to approach the future realistically, with an appreciation for what you will gain. There are few clear-cut issues that need to be resolved at this time. This is something of a transition period. Nevertheless, the that comes along just for the sake of doing something. Your goal is to carefully consider what your next move will be, and make it. Your strength and endurance are great -- which is a good thing, since they are needed right now. It is easy to be discouraged. If you are dedicated, you will reap the rewards of your labor. Your goal is to remain steadfast and keep your eye on the future. Decision making is frustrating, and you are often tempted to choose quickly in order to get it over with. Hasty decisions can be made between helpful information and divisive opinion. Your goal is to listen more closely to your own inner voice. Frustration can push you to jump to conclusions or make uninformed decisions, just for the sake of quick relief. This can be a real cause of your discomfort. Your goal is to clearly see how you choose the consequences of each action. You may feel that you are in a world out of control. And it is true that you cannot alter the course of nature, or the great mover. Discover how to create your own real world. Something within you changes, turns away from old ways of doing things. You may find your emotional relationships cooling. Nevertheless, this is actually a positive move. Your goal is to separate from that which is no longer yours, and make new connections. This is a powerful card. It suggests that danger may be near you. You must not develop an attitude of suspicion, but at the same time pay attention to the motives of those near you. Do not be suspicious of someone just because they appear too polite and refined. You can double the attractiveness of your relationships for a potential reward. Every friendship is precious. Three is a magical number. Both good and bad events come in threes. You may be involved in a group of three that has the potential for improvement. If you do, you may feel that your strength and confidence have tripled. This is a card of strength. You come closer to perfection each day. This card also suggests a fine gift from someone who cares. Guard your privacy. You have no control over the words or actions of other people, so be careful whom you trust. At the same time, bring many blessings into your life. This card suggests a move, probably to a new home. The home will be both physically attractive and a good investment. As you move, this card indicates a move to a new home, or a very significant change in the present home. This is a time when you must put your inner organization and religious faith will also play an important part in your ability to make the necessary adjustments. Enjoy the compliments you receive without becoming conceited. There is much opportunity for love and friendship around you. Improve your financial situation through honest actions. This card represents the pinnacle of success. As your own purity of soul increases, so do your rewards. You will receive even more and commitment you invest in life, the more you will receive in return. The current situation is about to improve, most likely in the area of your employment. The problems that have plagued you will be solved. Something unexpected or unusual will change your life for the better, although it may be in a small way that you don't notice at first. This card symbolizes love and marriage in a most positive light. The wise guidance of an older woman will be important to you in the near future. Make sure you are worthy of the trust that is placed in you. You may rely on the emotional support of an older man or family member. Go forward with confidence. Be alert. Everything seems wonderful, but there is hidden danger. You will be safe as long as you remain aware of what is going on. Remain steady in your endeavors. A long range goal has excellent chances of success, as long as you keep on working at it. Financial speculation may be risky at this time. Both opportunities and risks come in threes. You may be the third person in a group. A special opportunity is on the way, and you will have four chances to take advantage of it, or four clues as to its meaning. Go for it. That is coming, so that you will understand how to handle it. A strong and steady character will help you advance. Many extravagant promises will be made to you, but do not put your faith in them. Keep your best interests at heart that will bring rewards. Don't be shocked if bad news suddenly comes to you. You must take special care in the area of health. If you are prepared for it, you will be fine. Now is the time to atone for any wrong deeds you may have done. Examine your conscience carefully. Even a small transgression can be costly. What seems to be a long stretch of bad luck may simply be the result of your own long-standing habits. It is time to refresh yourself by changing yourself. This card suggests that some gifts are on their way to you. Do not be selfish, but share a good part of what you receive with those who need it.

A sudden change that appears to be good luck may actually conceal bad luck. Do not be afraid, but examine your new situation. It may be bad if you understand exactly what is going on.

A messenger of good news is on the way. Look for men or boys who will be a positive influence in your life. Accept help from them. Children will be a source of happiness for you. If you do not have children of your own, involvement in a youth program of some kind. Insight into your own childhood is helpful at this time.

You are about to receive more: more material goods, more love, more inner strength. Your active participation will increase and your success. Don't fall prey to the temptation for revenge. If you return evil with more evil, then your life will fill with unhappiness. Don't take revenge, but can turn a bad situation around by applying your own values.

This card suggests that you are planning a journey, perhaps a long one. Are you going toward something or leaving something behind? An invitation to mishaps. A clear head and a sense of your own courage will get you through many adventures.
