All of the accompanying files in this collection were captured using WordPerfect Corporation's "Grab" utility. Many of the files were in formats which WordPerfect 5.0 could not utilize directly. All of the files were created by others; all I have done here is "ported" them over to a format that WordPerfect 5.0 can understand. Some minor cropping and editing may be necessary with some of these images. Although the capture process is simple, it is time-consuming. If you're like me, you'd rather not stop right in the middle of your work to prepare a graphic for inclusion in your document. The collections represent a broad range of graphics, so you should be able to find what you need.

In most cases, an intermediate graphics utility was used to read the initial formats onto the screen so that they could be "grabbed". The utility used depended on the initial format of the graphic. Initially, most were in the .pnt format; later, some were converted from the .mac format. Since there is no de facto standard format for graphics on the PC, I encourage you to experiment with all that you can. I believe you will be pleasantly surprised (as I was).

For previous users of version 4.2 who have not yet upgraded, all that I can say is: WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR ! For those of you already using version 5.0, you already know what a tremendous product it is. The "grab" utility is a fine tool, and it's included in the cost of the program!
