ClipQuik

What is ClipQuik?

ClipQuik is an easy to use clipboard storage system which enables the user to store up to 15 separate clipboard entries at a time. The compact tabbed interface allows you to leave ClipQuik visible on the desktop while working within other applications. Text editors and word processors, HTML editors, programming tools, etc., etc., etc. ClipQuik can be used alongside any program which involves working with text.

Who can use ClipQuik?

ClipQuik is an extremely useful tool that can be used by anyone who ever makes use of their Windows clipboard. It's especially useful for web designers and webmasters, software developers, office personnel, and just surfing the internet for useful information.

Web designers and webmasters - The perfect tool for saving and re-using text that is repeated on more than one page.

Software developers - Very useful in storing and quickly referring back to important source code, and the perfect tool for submitting your software to distribution sites.

Office personnel - Great for organizing text for use in presentations, spreadsheets, form letters and general documents.

Surf the internet - A consentient storage utility for collecting useful information on the world wide web. With one mouse click, launches your default web browser to any stored URL.

The possibilities are endless. ClipQuik is quite possibly the one tool that'll never leave your desktop.

System requirements:

Windows 95/98
VB5 Runtime Files (important!)
