

A multitude of potted trumpet daffodils gives a pure color impact around this garden fountain. Equally grand on patios, steps, and townhouse courtyards, the daffodil is unsurpassable. It produces large flowers of deep golden yellow. These bulbs can be started indoors, then moved outdoors when the spring weather settles dependably. After the bulbs finish blooming, pots of other plants can take over the job. The bulbs then are moved to a less conspicuous location to yellow in privacy.