

Aphids, Mites, Scales

To protect shrubs from insect invasions, use a dormant oil spray on flowering shrubs in early spring before buds break. These sprays can control scales, and often aphids and mites, on a variety of evergreen and deciduous plants.