

Phlox, Blue

(Phlox divaricata)

Clusters of pale blue flowers in April and May on stems 6 to 15 inches tall. Small leaves appear opposite each other on the stem.

Light and Soil: Partial shade. Well-drained, dry soil.

Propagation: Division or stem cuttings.

Comments

Often forms large clumps.