

This garden is filled entirely with plants native to Australia. The mainstay is the kangaroo paw plant. Other native flowers include hebe, banksia, globe lily, and southern sarsaparilla. Interestingly enough, birds, not bees, pollinate these flowers. If you cannot find the plants at your local nursery, try shopping on-line or through a mail-order catalog.