

The refreshingly cool-toned blooms of this blue, lavender and white garden are found from late spring to early autumn. The modified U-shape of the bed surrounds one in a sea of flowers, while still providing easy access to the small patio. All plants, except the hydrangea, thrive in full sun making this an ideal design for the back of an elongated building lot.