

A whole world awaits you outside your backdoor with this tightly packed container garden. Flowering plants and fragrant herbs are bundled together producing a patchwork of color. To create a small vegetable box, include a few cucumber plants. The gazing ball amidst the flora illustrates how ornaments can create just the right touch.