

This container garden features containers of varying sizes and materials. They are layered on the patio and the low brick wall to give it more depth. To add flair to this garden, use containers with water plants and float fresh cut flowers on the water surface. A brick bench is provided for conversation or quiet reflection.