

If you love cooking, plant this garden near the kitchen door for a ready supply of fresh herbs. The best time to harvest is in late summer or early fall, though you can take fresh cuttings anytime. Full sun is preferable, but some plants may need a bit of shade in the hottest part of the day. Harvest the leftover herbs and dry them.