

This style is a favorite of gardeners in rural areas and folks who are not terribly fond of constant pruning and shaping. Large trees add to the natural look and create the shade most wildflowers need. For a truly authentic look, forego a traditional lawn and use mulch and river-washed stone instead. Make sure to add a rustic bench, so you have a comfortable vantage point where you can enjoy the fruits of your labor.