

The chills of winter will not dampen your spirits when this garden highlights the entrance to your warm and welcoming home. The violas and daffodils that line the walkway will cheer you, while the graceful bleeding hearts bring sunshine to any cloudy day! The autumn foliage of the barberry is a reminder to mulch this garden for winter, ensuring its gentle softness for next year.