

Is yours a heavily shaded garden? Given up hope of planting colorful flowers? This blooming shade garden is ideal for yards blessed with mature trees. Annuals, shrubs and many other plants are planted to provide bountiful color throughout the spring and summer months. When planning where to plant, be sure to pay attention to shade needs. It's a good idea to spend a day in your garden to observe where the sun peeks through the trees.