IMPORTANT INFO YOU SHOULD KNOW!

To make Tank Tracker more fun to play at the longer times I have added real sound effects to the game play, menu items and etc...

So everytime you click on your left mouse key for right handers or right mouse key for left handers your mouse will act and sound like your actually firing off rounds.

Wave Sound files as listed below that are used with this version;

TANK.WAV
GDBYTANK.WAV
KABOOM.WAV
EXPLOD.WAV

These 4 wave files must be used with this game. But don't have to be placed in the same directory with the game in question. Read over your Tank.wri or Tank.txt for more info about setting up the wave sounds.

Note: Failure to keep these files together or in your a file that is in your path will cause the program to use the default beep wave sound.

For every main menu item you click on or select a wave sound will go off. This is normal and the game was setup this way. So don't be alarmed when you here these extra firing off rounds sounds.

Also one more thing when you do select Exit from the main menu line you'll here a nice female voice message before the game closes. It's a nice touch to add to the game I thought? :o)

Note: Tank Tracker was tested with many apps opened and system resources were at a low 9% free. This game still performed and ran without any problems.
