

KILLPROC

Stops a running application based on a full or partial window name.

Syntax

KILLPROC title /t /?

title full/partial name of application to kill.

/t violently terminate an application. This may leave Windows unstable.

/? brings up this help file.

Usage

KILLPROC notepad

KILLPROC notep

KILLPROC note /t

KILLPROC word for windows

Notes

Use /t only as a last resort. It is functionally equivalent to pressing CTRL+ALT+DEL and locally stopping the application. It will also terminate DOS apps.

If there is more than one window with the same name or partial name, only the first application found will be terminated.

SHAREWARE LICENSE TERMS

KILLPROC is NOT public domain or free software, but is being distributed as SHAREWARE. This means that if you are a regular user of KILLPROC you should register and receive the enhanced version as a bonus. Only from the income from your registrations can the author continue to provide product support, make enhancements and basically stay in business.

Non-registered users of this software are granted a limited license to make an evaluation copy for the trial use on a private, non-commercial basis, for the purpose of determining if KILLPROC is suitable. At the end of this trial period, the user should either register his or her copy or discontinue use.

Registered users of KILLPROC may use KILLPROC on any computer as long as there is no chance of the same copy being run on multiple computers at the same time.

Operators of BBS's are encouraged to post KILLPROC and other material by DSI, for downloading by their users.

This license to use KILLPROC does NOT include the right to distribute or sell KILLPROC. These terms follow.

DISTRIBUTION OF KILLPROC BY VENDORS AND COMPUTER DEALERS

Distributors of "public domain" or user supported software libraries must obtain written permission to distribute KILLPROC and related material. No one may use KILLPROC as a promotion for any commercial venture or as an enticement for the user to pay for any program, product, or service unless they have RECEIVED the express written permission of the program's author.

In order to distribute KILLPROC the dealer must comply with the following conditions: You must obtain written permission from DSI to distribute KILLPROC. If you receive no reply, write again: Silence does not constitute permission, and you may not distribute pending receipt of permission.

A fee no greater than $10.00 may be charged for each disk sold. KILLPROC may not be included on any disk sold for more than $10.00, including CD-ROM or optical disks, w/o express written permission from DSI.

Vendors may not modify or delete any files on the disk. Vendors may add a "GO" or any other reasonable text file to assist the user. These files added by the vendor must be easily identifiable and end users must be allowed to delete the added files.

Vendors must make a reasonable effort to distribute only the most recent versions of KILLPROC. All vendors who have requested and received written permission to distribute KILLPROC will be notified of updates as they are released.
