RE: Alcomp Registration

By registering this program you will enable me to make future upgrades and additions to this package as well as work on other music systems. If you use Aleatoric Composer in a commercial recording, game, or other such venture, you must supply a copy of such CD, tape, disk, etc. as well as give me a credit in your documentation or liner notes. You can freely distribute the software, but will not sell it for a fee. As a registrant of this program, I will also listen to your comments and suggestions, as well as give you reduced rates on future software I produce. By registering this software, you are given a license for unlimited private and commercial use subject to the conditions above. The software and all data therein remains the property of Carl Christensen.

Do you agree to the above conditions?
