LICENCE AGREEMENT

Using this software implies your acceptance of the following terms and conditions :

1. Unregistered software : Unregistered software may be freely used on any number of machines for free trial with no time limit. It can be freely copied and distributed, on the condition that the distribution will be complete and with no modification.

2. Registered software : Registered software may be installed on several machines, with the limitation that the number of simultaneous users must not exceed the number of licences purchased. Any distribution of the registered software to third parties is prohibited.

SHAREWARE

Shareware is full commercial software that you can try out before you pay for it. It is distributed by shareware distributors such as BBS's (bulletin board systems), diskette or CD-ROM distributors, or by copies passed around among friends.

- Trying out the software allows you to determine whether it suits your needs and whether it runs correctly in your specific environment. At the end of the trial period, you should buy a licence if the software suits your needs and if you decide to continue using it (see REGISTRATION hereafter).

- The software and its documentation are complete and no essential function is lacking. This should help you to make your registration decision with full knowledge of the facts.

- However, registration sometimes gives you additional functions and/or a bonus software (in addition to support and/or provision of new versions and/or a printed manual).

The benefit of the system is to stimulate the creation of software, giving the user a wide choice, opportunities to try out programs, affordable prices, and better support reactivity, due to a direct relation between the author and the user. A number of products are now available on the market. These products would never have been born without this type of distribution.

When registering the products you use and distributing them to people around you, you are promoting the creation of affordable-priced software, and, in this way, you are promoting yourself.

ASP

The "Association of Shareware Professionals" rallies shareware authors and distributors committed to following a certain number of guidelines, "directions for use" of the shareware. The action of the ASP contributes to educating authors, distributors, and users, and to improving the professional level of this activity. For the user, the fact that an author belongs to the ASP is a guarantee for a professional work.

ASP OMBUDSMAN

This software is produced by a member of the Association of Shareware Professionals (ASP). ASP wants to make sure that the shareware principle works for you. If you are unable to resolve a shareware-related problem with an ASP member by contacting the member directly, ASP may be able to help. The ASP Ombudsman can help you resolve a dispute or problem with an ASP member, but does not provide technical support for members' products. Please write to the ASP Ombudsman at 545 Grover Road, Muskegon, MI 49442-9427 USA, FAX 616-788-2765 or send a CompuServe message via CompuServe Mail to ASP Ombudsman 70007,3536.

WHAT DO I GET WHEN I REGISTER ?

CompuServe registerees will receive only the identification key by CompuServe Mail (the latest version of the product will be available on CompuServe's Windows Shareware Forum - GO WINSHARE).

HISTORY OF VERSIONS

January 1994 :

Version V1.3 : addition of a Tools bar. Adaptation of the dialogs for an optimal placement whatever the screen resolution.

Bug corrections : no text end detection in some particular cases of searches.

November 1993 :

Version V1.2a : access to new versions is included with the registration.

Bug corrections : incorrect month when inserting date/time. Incorrect Insert Point moves in some particular cases.

September 1993 :

Version 1.2, fully shareware : unregistered and registered versions are now functionally identical. The installation, now automatic, creates a group of programs for Editeur in the Program Manager, and allows association of suffixes to the use of Editeur in the File Manager. Windows™ version 3.0 compatibility is not maintained further.

Bug corrections : memory violation during conversion selection for a single text. Bad management of long lines (involving several thousand characters).

Functional evolution : drag-and-drop support under Windows™ version 3.1. Selection moving to uppercase or lowercase lettering, date and time insertion.

March 1993 :

Version 1.1, multi-windowed, number of lines unlimited, overall size limited by the memory available (development of a specific edition window "USEREDIT" and of a specific memory management algorithm).

Further to the basic functions, advanced functions of this version working under Windows™ versions 3.0 and 3.1 are : opening of several files in one single dialog, font choice, history of file opening, undo/redo/repeat functions without level limitation, powerful and multi-text search and replace functions, conversion of tabulation width, on-line help, ...

A demonstration version limited to 100 lines per text was broadcast on 25 French BBS's, with the full version being purchased from the author.

August 1992 :

Version 0.2, multi-windowed limited overall to 8192 lines (use of the standard edition window "EDIT" and of the function GlobalAlloc for each line allocation).

June 1992 :

Version 0.1, single-windowed limited to 32 K bytes (use of the standard edition window "EDIT").
