DISCLAIMER

Use of this program acknowledges this disclaimer of warranty: "This program is supplied as is. Full Motion Net Software and Full Motion Net disclaims all warranties, express or implied, including, without limitation, the warranties of merchantability and of fitness of this program for any purpose. Full Motion Net Software nor Full Motion Net assumes no liability for damages incidental or consequential, or direct which may result from any use of this program."

LICENSE

This version of V-EDIT is NOT public domain or free software, but is being distributed as "shareware".

Non-registered users of this software are granted a limited license to make an evaluation copy for trial use on a private, non-commercial basis, for the express purpose of determining whether V-EDIT is suitable for their needs. At the end of this trial period, you should either register your copy or discontinue using V-EDIT.

A V-EDIT registration entitles you to use the program on any and all computers available to you, with the following restriction: If other people have access to this program or may use it, then additional copies or a site license should be purchased. Please call Full Motion Net for details.

All users are granted a limited license to copy V-EDIT only for the trial use of others and subject to the above limitations. This license does NOT include distribution or copying of this software package:

1. In connection with any other product or service.
2. For general use within a company or institution.
3. For any consideration or 'disk fee'.
4. For distribution in modified form; i.e., the file containing this license information MUST be included, along with the full V-EDIT documentation.

Operators of electronic bulletin board systems (Sysops) are encouraged to post V-EDIT for downloading by their users, as long as the above conditions are met. Disk vendors MUST obtain written permission from Full Motion Net before distributing V-EDIT. Certain restrictions apply. Generally ASP approved vendors are granted permission; others are handled on a case by case basis. Contact Full Motion Net for details.
