OPTIONS:

As with most screen savers, you can opt whether or not to use password protection. Please note that all screen savers use the same system-defined password. That is to say, this screen saver does not use it's own password but rather uses whatever password you might have selected for your screen savers in the past.

There are 3 sound options: "Full sound" provides normal sound effects and music. "Limited sound" will cause the sound to turn off after 1 minute. "No sound" will turn off all sound and music

A NOTE ABOUT VIDEO AND SOUND DRIVERS: Old or "buggy" video drivers are often a source of crashes and GP Faults in Windows programs (not just screen savers, but any graphic-intensive software). This screen saver has been very well tested. If you experience a GPF, you might want to investigate your video and/or sound driver software, to make sure you have a current version.
