

Delphi Junction

Test your knowledge

by David Baer

Across

1. Obvious first tool of those pitied by Delphi practitioners (6, 5).
9. Abandons double the sugar in cakes and pies (8).
10. Drug user ingests iodine, becomes more dazed (6).
11. Professional instruction available from protocol legend (7).
12. Grotesque monster assists in the learning process (7).
14. One droid creates an SF classic (1, 5).
15. Fabric creme has gone off (8).
17. Number has second prime factored out, then gets over having no end to month (8).
20. Clock's heart (6)
22. Wine collections of comic master discussed (7).
24. Restructured, our debts minus a billion become diversions (7).
26. Bathed and shared? (6).
27. Snitch pits are unpleasant living quarters (8).
28. Thomas Crown amplifiers and tuners are essential devices in most Delphi applications (11).

Down

2. Quality of mineral salt is utterly perplexing (9).
3. Just north, then east (7).
4. Enumerate an array alternative (4).
5. Pointer for oration (7).
6. Advice on data entry (5).
7. Dispense again, per our confusion (6).
8. Ripper heard panic (6).
13. Spook races madly (5).
16. Unbecoming cot, so firm, for company (9).
18. Important fairy can be seen in October only (6).
19. Ennuui to pierce an XML framework (7).
20. The unpredictable rate imparts high drama (7).
21. Stranger happier when decapitated (6).
23. Using a disassembled early research computer, subtract one for flower (5).
25. Chamber composition is disorganized riot (4).

The solution to this puzzle will appear in next month's issue. Have lots of fun solving it!

