

Thanks to everyone who helped make The Disc! #14 such an exciting and entertaining CD-ROM. This month the team included James Piper and David Wade; Michael Brown, Reviews Editor; Ingrid Bush, Editorial Assistant; Deanna Washington, our art director; Susan Lusty, our Managing Editor, and our Editor in Chief, Daniel Tynan.

Tim Victor, TechnoVision columnist and contributing editor, programmed the Windows user interface on the PC version of The Disc!

Many thanks to the folks at ASR Recording Of California, Inc. for their support, guidance, and performance in disc replication.

As always, a general and generous appreciation to all of the Imagine Publishing staff in Burlingame, CA.

And we continue to receive an exceptionally positive response from the many software publishers who are helping us to integrate The Disc! with our magazine.
